Excerpt of pertinent information :

On March 11, in the course of a conversation with Ex-King Carol of Rumania, Ambassador Wiley obtained the following outline of his ideas regarding the formation of a Rumanian Government in Exile which may be of interest to the Department. (The following are King Carol's own thoughts without any additions by this embassy).

The obvious starting point for any government in exile is Radescu who was the last legal Prime Minister of Rumania. This man, however, has the serious disadvantages of very advanced age and of being surrounded by persons whose motives are open to question. These include: Nicolescu Buzesdi. . . Viisoianu. . . Alexander Gretsianu. . .

The King stated that the above three satellites of Radescu are in his opinion seeking a political monopoly for their personal interests. . . .

This is all the pertinent information on subject in this document.
